INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT
THE WORLD'S BIGGEST BUY-BY-MAIL
ENVELOPE MANUFACTURER

We buy our paper the economical way—in trainload lots. Quantity buying saves money—and we pass that saving on to you. We always have enough paper on hand to write an 8"x10" letter to every man, woman and child in the United States, Ireland and New Zealand.

Our paper goes quickly because these high-speed machines really devour it. They turn it into envelopes at a speed so rapid the eye can't follow it—more than 8 million imprinted envelopes a day.

If the 24-hour output of this automatic paper splitter were stretched flat, it would form a 5-foot-wide paper highway long enough to make two trips from our 106,000 square foot New York plant to our new Illinois plant.

DEAR BUYER:

There is one sure way to find out whether your envelope costs are running too high, check our price list.

The 250,000 customers who buy Business Envelope do so for two big reasons: our prices are consistently 25 to 50% lower than those of local suppliers; and our quality and service are unsurpassed, anywhere.

“Why”?

We buy in trainload lots; we produce literally millions of envelopes daily: we utilize our facilities fully. When you buy from Business Envelope, the savings from volume purchases, volume production and no dead overhead are passed on to you. And you get the top quality that only the biggest producer of envelopes can afford to give you.

For honest value and genuine savings, check the prices in the enclosed brochure. Top quality at rock bottom prices and a guarantee of complete satisfaction are the only special inducements we offer. A quarter of a million customers think it's enough. May we prove it to you next time you order envelopes?
